BISON PREP FORUM

BISON PREP FORUM - AUGUST 3, 2021

OVERVIEW

PURPOSE:

The Bison Prep Forum provides new transfer students and their families an opportunity to learn about Howard University's key academic support services and tools for academic success. Students will engage with faculty, academic advisors, and other key personnel to be guided through orientation and transfer year requirements.

General Forum: 10:00 am

The general session will showcase highlights of life at HU, provide an introduction to the Office of Undergraduate Studies - your academic support hub; and deliver best practices and the formula to graduating on time.

School/College Academic Support Forum - 1:00 pm - 4:00 pm

While the allotted time is 1:00 pm - 4:00 pm, the schedules for the afternoon sessions vary by school/college/major. During registration, pay attention to the stated requirements and follow the participation requirements for your school/college. This is where you will:

- learn about School/College matriculation requirements,
- meet and chat with academic advisors, and
- ask questions about institutional and major-specific degree requirements.
